

2018 SCORE In-Class Starting Order

The 2018 Start position order for each event will be determined as follows:

- San Felipe 250 – There will be a draw to determine the in-class start order for all classes.
- 50th Baja 500 – San Felipe 250 results will determine the in-class starting order.
- Tijuana SCORE Desert Challenge – There will be a draw to determine the in-class start order for all classes. Start will be inverted for Day 2.
- Baja 1000 – Select class or classes will qualify at SEMA to determine the class start order. For classes not qualifying at SEMA, the Tijuana SCORE Desert Challenge results will determine the in-class starting order.

To summarize the above, start positions for the San Felipe 250 will be a draw and your results from the San Felipe 250 will determine the start positions for the 50th Baja 500. Start positions for the Tijuana SCORE Desert Challenge will be a draw. Your result from the Tijuana SCORE Desert Challenge will determine your Baja 1000 start position unless you are in a SEMA Qualifying class.

NOTE: Refer to the 50th Baja 500 and Baja 1000 sections below for additional details on how the In-Class Start Order will be administered for each event. Prior to each event, refer to the Schedule of Events to learn more about the specific registration time and day deadlines for that event.

50th Baja 500

The Driver of Record/Rider of Record (DOR/ROR) that finishes first in class in the San Felipe event will start first in their respective class at the 50th Baja 500. The DOR/ROR that finishes second in class in the San Felipe will start second in their respective class at the 50th Baja 500 and so on. If a team uses an alternate driver or rider in the San Felipe event, the official DOR/ROR will be the one that is given the start position at the 50th Baja 500.

Draw # 1 – If a San Felipe 250 entry finished as a DNF they will be entered into a drawing to determine their 50th Baja 500 start positions in their respective classes. This group will start behind the teams credited with a finish at the San Felipe race.

Draw # 2 - Teams not entered in the San Felipe 250 event that register and pay fees in full before the 50th Baja 500 online registration deadline will be entered into Drawing #2 and will start behind the San Felipe finishers and teams in Draw #1.

NOTE: Start positions earned at San Felipe 250 will be reserved only until the draw date for the 50th Baja 500. San Felipe participants who do not register before the draw deadline will be placed in Draw #2. San Felipe participants who do not register and pay before the close of the on-line registration will be treated as a Late Race Entry.

Late Race Entries (received after the online registration deadline date and time) will be in the order the entry was received behind the San Felipe 250 participating teams and those who met the online registration requirement to be in the draw.

Baja 1000

SEMA Qualifiers will start in the order they qualify within the class. Trophy Truck and Trophy Truck Legends will start intermixed based on qualifying results.

Teams entered in a qualifying class that raced the Tijuana SCORE Desert Challenge, but elect not to qualify for the Baja 1000, will be placed in the class start order behind the teams that qualify based on their placement points. In the event there is a tie based on placement points, a drawing between the tied entries will determine a team's Baja 1000 start order.
